CONSCRIPTS IN WAR DRAFT OFF TO CAMP

Patriotic Demonstration by the Citizens-- One Alternate Taken to Fill the Quota Reception Last Evening at Army and Navy Home

The third contingent of the men in the selective war draft from this district left for the mobilization camp at Ayer this morning and are now numbered with the thousands of the country's young men summoned by the government to begin training for the new national army.

Long before the hour set for them to assemble at the war board headquarters the people began to line the streets and railroad station to lend cheer to the departure of the thirty recruits from this city and the several towns of the district in this county. The reception was one that the men themselves and the city has reason to feel proud of.

The march to the railroad station started at eight o'clock and the following escort was in line: Platoon of police in command of Deputy Chief Ducker, Officers Kelley, Murphy, Condon, Smart, McLean, Philbrick; delegation from the Storer Post, G. A. R., M. H. Bell, commanding, Joseph H. Foster, Thomas Entwistle, Henry M. Tucker, John W. Leavitt, Joseph H. Degollite, Simon R. Marston. Next in line was a delegation of Camp Schley, Spanish-American War Veterans; Chamber of Commerce; Mayor Ladd and members of the city council and other municipal officials.

The contingent included the following with the exception of Alfred T. Jenkins of Portsmouth who has disappeared. Daniel A. McMaster, one of the alternates was ordered to fill the place of Jenkins:

Morris Salden, Portsmouth.
Harold L. Dutton, Portsmouth.

Charles A. Bean, Newton Junction.
Joseph A. Sussman, Portsmouth.
Orman R. Paul, Portsmouth.
Thomas R. Sheehy, Newfields.
Reuben McFarland, Portsmouth.
Thomas F. Keaveney, North Hampton.

Marvin F. George, East Kingston.
Moses Matossian, Portsmouth.
Ralph G. Adams, Portsmouth.
Edmund Bouchard, Newmarket.
Oliver Morin.

Owen M. O'Leary, Portsmouth.
Mahon H. Anderson, East Kingston.
Ralph H. Russell, East Kingston.
Everett W. Bennett, Greenland.
Guy A. Smith, Plaistow.

Alonso N. Caswell, Portsmouth.
Sumner F. Dennett, Portsmouth.
Leo J. Turcotte, Newmarket.
Alfred T. Jenkins, Portsmouth.

George B. Hatt, Portsmouth.
Edmund J. Goodnean, Plaistow.
Phineas L. Beale, Plaistow.
Harold C. Walker, Portsmouth.

Louis H. Hoyt, Newington.
Charles D. Harriman, Plaistow.
Phineas P. Coleman, Newington.
Thomas F. Norton, Newmarket.

Thomas R. Sheehy of Newmarket was in command and Leo J. Turcotte of Newmarket second in command. The remaining alternates summoned with this draft, not being needed, were released at the depot by W. E. Marvin, clerk of the board.

Three thousand people packed the depot when the train with special cars backed in from the railroad yard and the railroad men and police had their hands full to prevent accidents. Women crowded into the car of the draft-ees and many of them were still in the aisles of the car when the train pulled out. Another special car was attached to the train for the accommodation of 62 men from the Strafford county district at Dover and the second district Rockingham county at Exeter which was transferred to the Concord train at Rockingham Junction.

As the train passed through the railroad yard, cheers went up from the crowd mingled with the whistles of the railroad locomotives and manufacturing plants at the west end.

Long after the train departed many women with tear-dimmed eyes stood on the platform in silence watching the rear car and wondering what the horrors of war would bring home to them next.

The men of the second forty percent quota of the new national army from this district, were given a rousing reception on their last night as civilians, for tomorrow by noon they will have become merged into the great army that the United States has well in the making.

The thirty men who make up the quota all reported with but exception. This exception was Alfred T. Jenkins who failed to show up during the evening. His name was promptly turned over to the local police and they later learned that he had last been seen in Rochester, and the Rochester police are now making a search for him.

The others after reporting to the

FRENCH FORCES BOMBARD BADEN

Many American Tourists Have Visited the Town.

(By Associated Press)

Paris, Oct. 3.—An official statement issued by the French war office states that French aviators bombarded the German town of Baden, last night. Many vital sections of the town were affected according to dispatches. The raid last night was a continuation of reprisals for attacks by German air forces on French cities.

Baden is one of the beautiful towns in Europe that is visited by many American tourists. It is noted for the medicinal baths.

The town of Baden has a population of nearly 15,000 and is located fifty-five miles from the French border. No French planes that took part in the bombardment were reported damaged.

SENSATION IN WAKELIN CASE

School Mate of Dead Girl Testifies.

(By Associated Press)

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 3.—John H. Higgins, a nine-year-old school boy, and a school mate of Loretta Wakelin, boy of the death of his daughter, it was the first witness called in the Wakelin manslaughter case today.

The police allege that Joseph Wakelin and his wife, Sarah Ann Wakelin, caused the death of their little daughter, Loretta, on June 1, 1916.

The young witness sprung a sensation in the trial today, when in a firm, convincing voice he told the court that Wakelin had told him that Loretta was dead an hour before the police had been notified.

The boy said that school was dismissed at 12.30 and that he saw Wakelin working in his garden at 12.50. It was at this time that Wakelin told him of the death of his daughter. It was 2 p. m. that afternoon before Wakelin called the police and notified them that his daughter was missing.

One of the greatest exhibits of farm products and canned foods opened today in Portsmouth under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce.

Ranging from sun-flowers sixteen feet high and pumpkins weighing 62 pounds, to wild apples, many of the local store windows contain every conceivable vegetable grown in New England soil.

The canning exhibit contains many new features in that of the recently discovered cold pack. All kinds of vegetables are canned. Tempting looking relishes are also among the displays.

The exhibitors have entered one of the most interesting contests staged in Portsmouth for some time. Awards will be made for the farmer who has the best exhibit. Judges will tour the displays and announce the winners, probably on Oct. 7, the day after the carnival closes.

The exhibit is under the title of the Rockingham County Harvest Carnival. It will be held Oct. 3, 4, 5 and 6.

The Chamber of Commerce announced today that they had decided to withhold the names of the exhibitors. The window displays being numbered and do not bear the name of the person who has entered the display in the contest.

All of the merchants had not received their exhibits for their window displays at noon today. The Chamber of Commerce is sending them to merchants as fast as possible and by tonight the carnival will be in full swing. Among the stores that have displayed and some of the features in the respective windows are:

D. F. Borthwick—Five windows are devoted to the exhibit. Every imaginable kind of farm products and canned goods are displayed.

French's Store—One window in which a squash weighing over fifty pounds is exhibited. Corn on the stalk carries out a rustic display.

Peyser's—Four windows display many varieties of vegetables. Trace corn is among the exhibits. This corn is said to be scarce in this part of the country. Another feature of the Peyser exhibit is a display of cranberry beans.

Foye's—One large window in which canned goods and vegetables are exhibited is being used. A large English kale plant with leaves that spread nearly two feet is attracting considerable attention.

N. H. Bean—One window in which canned goods and many varieties of vegetables are being displayed.

Hoyt & Dow—One window is devoted to an extensive display of canned goods, many being done by the cold pack process.

Paul M. Harvey—One window with a plant of blue English kale that covers nearly the whole window is one of the features of the Harvey exhibit.

D. H. McIntosh—One large window with many kinds of vegetables is being used in connection with the carnival. A sunflower each side of the door that will stand close to sixteen feet high is attracting great attention.

The other merchants that will assist in the carnival will no doubt have their display windows completed, late this afternoon.

AMERICAN WAR CRAFT IN COLLISION

(By Associated Press)

aboard the British ship and the destroyer towed to a British port. The American vessel has been repaired and restored to duty.

An investigation was ordered and the investigators reported that neither craft was at fault, that the collision occurred during the thick fog and rain.

GREAT BRITAIN'S NEW EMBARGO EFFECTS GERMANY

Most Important Move In War Says Washington Officials

(By Associated Press)

Washington, D. C., Oct. 3.—One of the most important happenings of the war according to officials in Washington is the embargo placed in effect by Great Britain today on all shipments to Sweden, Netherlands, Denmark and Norway.

Officials state that the supplies to Germany are now nearly at an end, that nothing can be shipped into that country with Great Britain's new embargo in effect. It is stated on authority that the embargo has killed Germany's military power.

The new embargo excludes everything with the exception of newspapers and printed matter.

Men of authority state that the U. S. holds one end of the rope and Great Britain holds the other; that the rope is being drawn taut and Germany is fast becoming strangled with the placing of Great Britain's embargo.

KNITTERS ARE BADLY NEEDED

The local Chapter of Red Cross have received 100 pounds of woolen yarn and about a half of it has already been given out to those who will make sweaters for the Chapter. There is still great need of more knitters and everybody who can possibly do this work should take at least one sweater.

It has been decided that the first lot of sweaters will go to the men of the First Company, Coast Artillery at Camp Devens as they are unable to receive their orders to leave for France at any time. They need the sweaters and it was thought best to see that they were supplied at once. After that the men of the selected draft from this district will be fitted out.

Everybody who can knit should apply today at the Red Cross work room for yarn and do their bit to make the boys comfortable.

ASKS ACTION ON ALIEN SLACKERS

Washington, Oct. 2.—Congressman James A. Gallivan of Massachusetts made a plea for action on the alien slacker legislation in the house today, saying that in justice the aliens who are taking places in the counting room or factory while more than a million young citizens are being sent to the western front should be compelled to do their share and show they are not ungrateful for the privileges enjoyed in this republic. He said he hoped doing and postponing of action on the legislation would end when congress re-assembled in December.

"Figures are hard to get together," said he, "but I am credibly informed that there in the United States today about 1,250,000 men who are not under obligation to serve under the Stars and Stripes, and who, because they are on American soil and protected by the laws of the United States cannot be forced to join the armies of the various countries to which they severally owe allegiance.

"Of this number fully one-half are of the so-called draft age. We ask them now, in the light of their need, and the need of their native country, much more than ours, that as they are enjoying the fruits of democracy, so they may in a most substantial way contribute their share of these fruits, and in return for what they have received from us, make at this time the only kind of a return that will or can be accepted as proof positive that they are not ungrateful to us for the privileges which they have enjoyed under the government of the United States.

"We are in a world war. The alien has as much interest in the outcome as the citizen, and if this be so, why does he not take the position that if the result is to be a victory for the United States of America, he will swear under heaven to contribute to this victory, if he is entitled to share in its fruits?

"No wonder Mr. Speaker, that you and I hesitated as we stood upon the brink of war; no wonder that we viewed with scepticism the departure from the volunteer system to that of registration and the selective draft; no wonder that we feared that the people who had been asleep for so long, not understanding that the enormity of the struggle which has been waged on the other side of the water was really close to us, showed signs of reluctance and resentment when the suggestion of a draft army for a free people was first made. We all shared in this reluctance. We knew the patriotism of the American youth. We had tried it when it was coming into being in the war of the revolution. We had experienced it again in 1812, in 1845 to '48, in 1861 to '65.

"This bill is simply a corrective of what would otherwise be a gross injustice. As many men are at the cannon's mouth today as the result of the first draft as there are aliens within the scope of this bill. Give us some action on this bill."

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

TAKE A GLASS OF SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS IF BLADDER BOTHERS YOU

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, clog up and cause all sorts of distress; particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Epsom Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

Parallel Stories.

When Napoleon was a student at Brienne he happened to be asked by one of the examiners the following question: "Supposing you were in an investment town, threatened with starvation, how would you supply yourself with provisions?" "From the enemy," replied the subaltern of an artillery. And this answer so pleased the examiners that they passed him without further questioning. Now Napoleon's answer was by no means original for one of Suvaroff's sergeants obtained promotion from the ranks by giving the very same answer when asked the very same question.

Hot Applications.

As a substitute for hot water bags in ordinary ailments, such as toothache, earache and other minor pains, use common animal bags made in convenient sizes, with drawstrings. Fill them with hot sand or salt and they are safer than a cheap rubber bottle, just as efficacious and much handier to use. Keep half a dozen ready. They are of great help in time of aches and pains.

Perpoise and Whale.

Whales and porpoises are mammals, like cattle and sheep, and their flesh is "meat," not "fish." In texture and appearance it resembles beef, though the color is darker red, and the flavor is closer to that meat than to any other. It is devoid of all fishy taste.

DENY COL. HOUSE BUSY ON PEACE

Washington, Oct. 3.—Authoritative information from a high quarter was obtained yesterday with reference to the reported undertaking of Col. E. M. House, President Wilson's friend and adviser, to gather material for use as a basis of American participation in peace negotiations. Generally, it may be said that this government is not engaged in any peace move, direct or indirect, and Col. House has no authority to act for the President, in any such capacity as that attributed to him.

President Wilson is greatly annoyed over reports that Col. House's work is in line with a peace move. The President was never so determined to go forward with the war. Those close to him testify that he is set in his intention to keep the United States in the fight until he objects for which the government and his allies are fighting are obtained. The President has laid down the dictum that the United States will have no dealings with the German government until the German people have a greater part in the determination of policies, a part sufficient to enable them to furnish adequate peace guarantees.

The content powers have accepted this attitude as their own. No doubt exists in the minds of those best acquainted with the President's disposition that much as he would like to see the war ended, he would not consent to peace until he saw the realization of his fixed purpose to make the world safe for democracy.

About two years ago reports began to come to this government from its agencies in Europe with reference to those that would confront the trade of the world after the war, and these reports which continue to be received, are being studied by Col. House with a view to utilizing them in a practical way after the war. Many men have come to America with knowledge of probable trade problems growing out of the war and the President has asked those men to lay their information and views before Col. House.

That Col. House has called upon Justice Brandeis to assist him in the work has not been made known to the President and it is not believed by the highest officials of the administration. A report that Col. House would obtain the assistance in his reputed "peace move" of William H. Taft and Elihu Root is not credited by those acquainted with the plans of the President.

Technical experts have been engaged to gather data about present and prospective trade conditions in Europe. The thing that is emphasized by high officials in regard to Col. House's task is that it has nothing to do with peace. The indignation expressed today in authoritative quarters over the effort to make it appear that President Wilson was preparing for a peace move left the impression of sincerity.

The Chalmers Proves Itself

Amid the multitude of claims of various kinds for motor-car superiority, it is refreshing to find one where buyers need take nothing for granted.

When the Chalmers makes a claim it comes out and proves it.

It holds many important records, and has won most important tests, in its class. Frequently the figures attained are better than cars of almost twice its size.

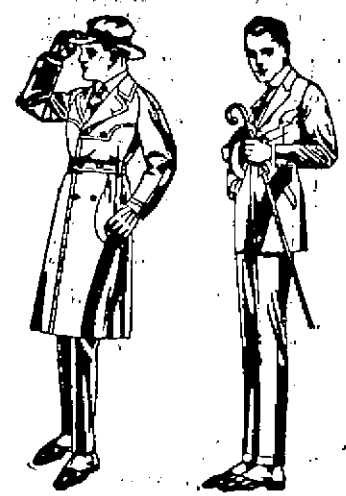

On Atlantic Beach, Jacksonville, Florida, May 4, 1917 the Chalmers light, small, six-cylinder motor, established the record in its class of a mile in 38.1 seconds. Almost 95 miles an hour.

This is 2.2 seconds faster than a National twice its size and only 3 seconds slower than the Hudson Super-Six motor, almost 25% larger.

Come in when passing and let us tell you many more proofs of Chalmers supremacy.

NEW ENGLAND BOYS IN ARMY LIFE

Out on the plains of Westfield, tented in the outskirts of Boxford, isolated in the island forts off Newport, Portland and New London are hundreds and thousands of American soldiers, mostly New England boys, who are beginning to get a taste of real military life such as the members of the New National Army will not know for many months. This part of the advance guard, expecting to leave for France, at any minute, is not quarantined amid the comforts which exist at Ayer's private business concerns and amusement houses are not clamoring for right to set up temporary quarters among them; and the press of the country is not eager for long stories on the joys and trials of September life in tents.

One organization, however, deems no detachment too small, no distance too great and no difficulty too insurmountable in its will to serve. That is its policy in New England and that is rapidly becoming its slogan abroad. That organization represents the nearest thing to home which the boys in the service have. Its emblem is the Red Triangle; its name is of international reputation. At Camp Devens it has eleven buildings and about seven secretaries for the 43,000 men in that city dedicated to the military art. A similar service is rendered to American troops throughout this country and overseas. In the next nine months it will spend over three millions of dollars to bring back morale which is so indispensable to success on the hundreds of miles of Russian front, as well as a million dollars each for the troops of the French and the Italian armies in the path of rendering to these men friendly service which has been requested from the American Associations by the highest military authorities of those armies. These are among the larger opportunities that are commanding the attention of the National War Work Council of the Young Men's Christian Associations of the United States. Cope with them it must and seize them it will—not because they are spectacular but because they are vital. They touch the lives of thousands of human beings—many of them undergoing indescribable hardships, mental anguish and lagging of spirit.

"Morale" is essential to success and the home atmosphere is the best creator of morale. That is why Brigadier General Cole called up Mr. E. W. Hearne, Department Executive of the National War Work Council for the Northeast, before he opened a recruit camp some months ago at Framingham and said he expected the Young Men's Christian Association to be on "the job" when the men pitched their tents. General Cole later established the 26th Division camp at Westfield where one Association tent after another went up as the company streets were laid out for a mile or two on each side of the main road across the plains until five were in full operation for the 18,000 men in khaki. "You can't put up too many of those tents for me," said General Cole, and in saying this he was only echoing the sentiments of the men for the tents with the rough sod as a floor and King Kerosene as the dispenser of gloom are filled to capacity every evening. But the Young Men's Christian Association is not a tent nor a building, nor a disharmony of writing paper; it is an organization of men, men with personality; represented on the field by secretaries who know no hours of rest and recreation if there is a task to be done for their fellows in the service. They are to seize the opportunities as they come—to serve the government as well as the individual, as did Secretary V. W. Dyer at Westfield when he lectured to company after company on the facts and dangers in sex life. Four lectures of an hour each in one day reached a thousand men—many of whom had never had a clear presentation of the matter. Luther lives. Dr. Exner's pamphlets were then given out and eagerly read. Such work as this is indispensable if the American army is to escape the pit into which so many of the troops of other nations have fallen in this war.

Isolation is another danger to morale. Two hundred soldiers at Fort (Cetty, on an island off Newport, realized this most acutely until the Red Triangle in its summer regalia, a tent of sizable dimensions, put in an appearance not long ago. With it came "Ralph" and Fort Getty had changed. With such a program as this, there was no temptation to leave the Fort. Monday afternoon, baseball game with Fort Kearney; evening—movies; Tuesday evening, stunt night (pillow fights, pie eating, etc.); Wednesday afternoon, volleyball game; evening, concert by the Hawley trio sent by the National War Council from New York (attended by five officers and all but eleven of the men who were not on guard); Thursday afternoon, start of the checker tournament; evening—talk by Secretary L'Yeonard on request of the men; Friday afternoon, scrub baseball game; evening, Mrs. Rooney, soloist, and four reels of movies; Saturday, volleyball game between the platoons; Sunday evening, the government tug boat took almost the entire force to Fort Globe to hear Dr. Robert E. Speer. This situation is not unique. It exists, the same in essence, at Fort Constitution and Fort Stark, near Portsmouth; at Fort Revere, Fort Banks, Fort Standish, Fort Andrews, off Boston; Fort Groble, Fort Kearney, Fort Wetherill, off Newport; Fort Terry and Fort Wright off New London and several others off the coast of New England. The Red Triangle is known, at them all—at some, there is a building; at others, a tent; at still others, a part of a government building is used. Not at all command the entire services of a secretary but none are forgotten and all are supplied with that stationery which is now being issued from New York at the rate of a million sheets a day.

This service is typical of that which the National War Work Council is rendering throughout the United States where separate Association buildings and tents to the number of 575 are maintained for the men in the army and navy, under the direction of 1,775 secretaries. Each one of these units is kept constantly in touch with the various bureaus of the Council in New York, which provide not only equipment and supplies to the extent of about ninety separate items for each building, but leadership and a centralized policy for religious, educational and athletic work. Three hundred physical work directors, 137 religious work directors and 57 educational workers have already been appointed and more in demand. Often the Association has provided the only athletic equipment in camp and in many cases the physical work directors have assisted the government authorities by leading the men in setting up exercises, teaching them swimming, etc. French chesses have been markedly successful in many camps. At Camp Meade, Admiral, Md., there are 500 enrolled for this instruction under volunteer teachers. Work in English, especially for those in the new National Army who are not very familiar with it, is also in great demand. For religious work, the Association has the co-operation of the leaders of various denominations, including such men as Bishop Luther B. Wilson of New York, who has been in France as a Secretary, Bishop Lawrence of Massachusetts, Dr. Robert J. Speer of New York, President Douglas MacKenzie of Chicago, and Dr. Peter Ainslee of Washington. All tents and buildings under the control of the Young Men's Christian Association in the camps are open on Sunday to religious chaplains for religious services, whatever be the Church with these chaplains may be affiliated. Thus in a single building on a given Sunday there may be Jewish, Roman Catholic and Protestant services. This is the situation throughout the country, as the Red Triangle buildings and tents may be seen in 21 camps west of the Rockies, in more than 33 places on or near the Mexican border, in 41 military centers in the Central States, in 25 camps in the Southeast and in 105 centers for enlisted men throughout the Middle Atlantic and New England States.

At present the activities of the National War Work Council in this country are claiming the major output of men and money, but the budget of $35,000,000 for the next nine months calls for an expenditure of $550,000 more for the American forces in France than for the troops at home. The advance guard of Association secretaries has been at work overseas since the early days of the war when Messrs. E. C. Carter and D. A. Davis were appointed representatives of the National War Work Council in France and England. They have been working with General Pershing's men since the time of the arrival of American troops but the army has not demanded at their attention, for the latest reports from Paris tell of a most efficient bit of service performed by Secretary Herbert Taylor of Northwestern University at one of the Naval bases on the French Coast frequented by American torpedo boats and destroyers. Taylor found that the liquor and gambling interests were about to buy up most of the available houses in the central part of the town. With the characteristic American vigor he went ahead and bought up for the Y. M. C. A. the five remaining houses in the public square. Then more assistance came from an unexpected source. Mrs. Vincent Astor visited the town and was escorted around by Mr. Taylor. She noticed a large hotel in a prominent location and asked about it. He said it was a popular with the men but was far from having a good influence. She bought it for 50,000 francs and gave it to him for the Young Men's Christian Association. This has changed the atmosphere of the whole town.

The demand for such vision at the front and at the base camps in France is just as great as at the naval base already mentioned. Resourceful, experienced men are offering their time for this service, often at a considerable financial sacrifice, but the difficulties in a material way are great and only generous support from home can overcome them. One great problem is that of transportation. Railroads in France are working to capacity for the government. To insure quick dispatch of material from the ports of debarkation to the Association buildings, automobile trucks are essential. Considerably over $100,000 has already been spent in France to purchase such cars, and the work is only just beginning. This is only one item for the work in one of the five countries in which the National War Work Council has assumed responsibilities for the men in the service.

FOOD OFFICIALS GIVE WARNING

Washington, D. C., Oct. 2.—The officials in charge of the enforcement of the food and drugs act are again calling attention to the practice of soaking dried peas and dried lima beans until they have the appearance of the fresh article and then canning them. Such products are then in many instances sold as the canned fresh articles. Unless soaked peas and lima beans are plainly labeled as "soaked" or in some other manner so as to show their character, they are regarded as in violation of the food and drugs act.

There is no denial that soaked peas and lima beans are a wholesome article of food. They are, however, admittedly inferior in quality to the products prepared from the fresh vegetables.

Furthermore, the dried peas or beans may themselves be purchased by the housewife quite cheaply and while in the dried condition may be commercially and satisfactorily stored for future use.

The housewife will also do her bit in the conservation of our limited supply of tin plate by soaking and cooking her own dried peas and lima beans in the kitchen and thereby releasing a proportional amount of tin cans for use in the packing of perishable foods where they are greatly needed.

Consumers are urged to read labels of canned peas and lima beans carefully in order to see whether or not they are getting a fresh or a soaked, dried product.

WILL DEMAND A LOWER PRICE FOR BREAD

Washington, Oct. 2.—The end of the book, on bread prices has not been written by the Hoover food administration by any means.

It was learned today that there is good reason to expect the food administration will succeed in lowering materially the price of the loaf. Food Administrator Hoover is working to that end. In a few days the Federal Trade Commission will make a report on the cost of production of bread and if these figures justify lower prices of bread, as there is substantial reason to believe they will, the food administration will so advise the country and do all it can to force such prices lower. It is known Mr. Hoover has his mind set on accomplishing this.

The big bakers of the country so far have worked against lowering of bread prices. Some, who have assumed to help the food administration, evidently have been keeping an eye out against any curtailment of profits for the bakers. The little bakers have been found more amenable than the big ones.

That the Hoover Food Administration has reached the point where it is not going to depend for advice and counsel on the big bakers is known. The return of the five-cent loaf is not in sight in this country but the indications are that, in the first place, the Food Administration will seek to lower present prices and that some of the concerns that produce and handle bread are going to be content with small margins of profit and so help the situation perceptibly.

BIG ROOM IN LIBERTY LOAN

Boston, Oct. 2.—The second Liberty loan is meeting the satisfaction of the bankers in charge of the New England distribution according to statements made by local bankers today.

The largest subscription today was made by the Draper Corporation at Hopedale, Mass. The corporation took a one million dollar bond.

Yesterday's receipts were unofficially estimated at nearly three million dollars.

The second issue is said to be meeting with greater success than the first.

Portsmouth, N. H., Wednesday, October 3, 1917.

Boston had a banana picnic the other day when a ship load of the fruit came into port in such a condition that the owners considered it spoiled and proposed to dump it in the harbor. The health authorities ruled that it must not be wasted and so the fruit was given away to people who scrambled for it as boys do for pennies. Much of it was exceedingly "ripe," but it did not lack for eager takers.

Chicago bakers are of the opinion that Mr. Hoover will make but a slight reduction in the price of bread. They believe he will allow a profit of ten per cent above the cost of production, and that if he does this there will not be much of a drop in the price. But the ultimate consumer is liable to be heard from unless there is more substantial relief than these bakers foresee.

The man who the other day escaped from Laconia jail, where he is being held for trial on the charge of murder, and who said when overhauled that he didn't want to get away, is apparently capable of making a virtue of necessity. Incidentally it may be remarked that it is a good plan to have places of detention for men charged with capital crimes fairly secure.

President Wilson has decided that it is not advisable to send a delegation of Congress to Europe at this time to make war observations, and the decision is sensible and sound. As this paper has before intimated, it is a different class of men that the situation in Europe calls for just now, and they are on their way.

Threatening letters will not stay the activities of congressmen who are active in war work, but if the practice of sending them is kept up they are liable to get their senders into very serious trouble. That sort of tactics is beneath the dignity of all but cowards and scoundrels, and if any of them are caught they will regret that they ever penned the missives.

New Hampshire is in a position to take care of vacationists "coming and going." It has the coast for them in summer and the mountains for the fall. New England is fast becoming the national summer resort, and no New England state has more genuine attractions than old New Hampshire.

Frank A. Vanderlip, a prominent New York banker, has laid down his regular work to assist Secretary McAdoo in floating the next Liberty loan and will receive for his services the munificent sum of one dollar a year. And yet there are some who are still shouting that this is a rich man's war.

Germany is said to be enlisting boys fifteen years of age. A few boys of that age squeezed into the Union Army at the time of the Civil war and made mighty good soldiers, yet it will be generally agreed that boys of fifteen would better be in school or some useful employment.

It would seem as if the question of exempting drafted men ought to be disposed of without carrying it up to the president of the United States. There are enough larger matters for him to attend to and nothing of this sort should be added to the load he is carrying.

Canada and the United States are co-operating toward making it difficult for slackers to escape military service by crossing the line in either direction. That this practice has been in vogue for some time is known and it is high time that it should cease.

Coal miners are now demanding wage increases of from 20 to 70 per cent. How long can this sort of thing go on before the government will have to give its attention to wages as well as to prices?

A British sea captain lately arrived in this country speaks highly of the work of the American destroyers. And if the Germans would admit the truth they would do the same thing.

People who bought Liberty bonds a few months ago will soon be in possession of the "documents." And then they will have an opportunity to add to their holdings if they see fit.

The War Industries Board has cut the prices of iron and steel products in two almost in the middle. What must the profits have been prior to this major "operation?"

Massachusetts is not yet ready for the recall, but at the primaries last week it showed that it is very favorably disposed toward the McCall.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Prohibition's Crown
(From the Minneapolis Journal)
Prohibition is going so strong every where now that there is even a chance of Maine's getting on the wagon.

How About Alexander?
(From the Berkshire County Eagle)
A professor says that the war was started by men in advanced stages of senile decay. He says that it is not of record that a war was ever started by young men.

New York's Automobile Laws
(From the New York World)
It will seem rather humiliating for New York to be urged by three neighboring states to reform its automobile legislation by greater strictness in issuing and revoking licenses. But the Empire State has deserved it. If the solicitude of neighbor states for the lives of their own children helps save children's lives in New York, so much the better.

Nothing Slow About Siam
(From the Springfield Union)
More than two months have elapsed since Siam declared war on Germany, but there have been no German plots or conspiracies in this little kingdom as yet, nor is there likely to be. The declaration of war was announced at daybreak on July 22, and within an hour every German in Siam was rounded up and was on his way to an internment camp. The Siamese may be backward in many respects but they know how to do things promptly and well in some emergencies.

The Old Kentucky Bar!
(From the Worcester Telegram)
Men of Kentucky simply must produce something that goes about in barrels. Uncle Sam put their distilleries out of the whiskey making business, and they in part proceeded to make alcohol for the mechanics in their still, and the other part went to boring wells that the petroleum of internal Kentucky might come up and jump into barrels, perhaps the same old whiskey barrels. Anyhow they drilled 166 oil wells in September, if not more since the last count, and are barreling 75,000 units of the oil a week. That means money at the rate of $750,000 a week while oil sells for $2.40 a barrel. And Tennessee follows, its distillery neighbor into the oil business, with a petroleum pool in Scott County.

One Good Killing
(From the Universalist Leader)
Amid the slaughter of human lives in this horrible war, there is one killing we can heartily recommend, and which in some small measure will justify other losses, and that is the killing of "John Barleycorn." It is said beyond speech, that the world must pay such an awful price to get rid of its worst enemy, but if the end could be secured in no other way, it is worth the price. John Barleycorn is surely on the decline, and if he is not effectually buried in every civilized country, he will never again attain his full vigor. Practical prohibition has made the new Russia; the tentative advance towards prohibition in other lands is a sign the liquor men can not ignore. In fact they are desperate, and resorting to the most extreme measures to save their favorite son, "John." But it is no use, his early demise is assured, and it is the one good killing among so much that is bad.

"Big Interests" Indeed
(From the New York World)
Two members of the I. W. W. arrested in New York proclaimed a great truth when they said that the campaign against that organization had been inspired by "big interests." The big interests which have determined to put an end to the ten thousand crimes of the I. W. W. are the Government and people of the United States. No other interest in this country compares with them in detestation of the treasons and treacheries of this society of outlaws, and no other has such power to expose and punish them. Back of Government and people in this matter are other big interests, sometimes referred to as "humanity and civilization. A disagreeable surprise awaits lawbreakers who confuse these forces with a selfish class or business.

Anderson And His New Job
(From the Springfield Republican)
In George W. Anderson New England finds realized its desire for a New England member of the enlarged Interstate Commerce Commission. It was not long ago that the New England governors requested the President to elect a New Englander for one of the vacancies for the very sound reason that New England has a deep interest in the transportation and rate questions that come before the commission from every part of the country. Mr. Anderson understands New England's transportation problems and his brief experience as a member of the Public Service Commission of Massachusetts should be of value to him in his new position. One would expect him, also, to do justice to the railroads, although he has been classed as a radical in corporation matters, for he is capable of grasping the elements of public problems in their broadest aspects.

Whiskey And Its Alternatives
(From the New York Herald)
That the distilling of whiskey must cease but that the distillers will be allowed to produce alcohol for medicinal and industrial purposes is a piece of news well calculated to hearten the disciples of total abstinence. But the second thought, in this as in other cases sounder than the first, causes fearsome apprehension as to the medicinal and industrial uses to which this alcohol will be put.

That it will enter more largely than ever into the concoction of patent medicines cannot be doubted. The elimination of whiskey will give a decided impetus to the sale of the various "biters" and "tonics" and "sovereign remedies" which have ruined the stomachs of so many professed teetotalers in the rural districts. The consumption of these nostrums, especially in prohibition states, has always been enormous, and the ills that they are warranted to cure unlimited. When no disease is to be combated they are consumed under the pretence that they "tone up the system," or "purify the blood."

New Hampshire Roads
(From the Boston Herald)
Some of the western states have been celebrating a Good Roads day to stimulate public interest in improved highways and to make a practical beginning on the program of actual construction. The Good Roads day that New Hampshire has added to its list of semi-official holidays is not of that sort. It is rather a celebration of the virtual completion of its splendid system of trunk lines and the network of important cross lines—a public recognition of the truth that the improved highways are not costly luxuries, as many persons regarded them at first, but economic necessities to be extended and maintained in businesslike fashion.

New Hampshire was a pioneer in the cause of good roads. While many other states were talking about what they were going to do or what they would like to do, and getting a lot of publicity on the strength of their good intentions, New Hampshire went quietly ahead a dozen years ago and began its system of gravel trunk lines—model rural roads that other states might profitably imitate in place of the more expensive and less satisfactory forms of construction too often employed. Now it has more than a thousand miles of such gravel roads, roads that rejoice the heart of any motorist in rain or shine, and 200 miles of macadam construction. Three main trunk lines from the southern border—the east road, the Merrimack Valley road and the Connecticut Valley road—lead to the northern tip of the state. All the famous and once difficult entrances into the heart of the White mountains—the Crawford Notch, the Franconia Notch, the Pinkham Notch and the Dixville Notch—are included in these superb roads.

There are still crossroads and "feeder" roads to be improved, but the bulk of the construction is completed. A state that has done so well will not neglect the maintenance of its splendid highway system. New Hampshire never made a better investment, not only in its capacity as host to a multitude of summer guests, but also in connection with the carrying on of its usual internal business. And it has set an example that larger and richer states can study with profit.

CONSCRIPTS WAR DRAFT OFF TO CAMP

war board at the Court house in this city, and receiving their instructions, were taken to the Army and Navy Home on Daniel street while his headquarters until they leave for Ayer. The alternates were also present and taken care of at the home. In the case of the alternates although they are ordered to report, they receive no expense money, so that the Chamber of Commerce at once assumed the charge of these men and made arrangements for them to be quartered at the home.

At seven o'clock there was a supper of lobster and potato salads, rolls, coffee ice cream, and cake served and afterwards cigars and cigarettes were passed around.

A band from the navy yard was present and rendered a fine concert.

President F. W. Hartford of the Army and Navy Home presided and after a few words of welcome to the new men, introduced Mayor Samuel T. Ladd who praised the men and predicted for them the same progress that has been made by all of the men from this district. He was followed by Chief Houtswah W. L. Hill, U. S. 2, the organizer of the Army and Navy Home, and Mr. D. F. Northwick, who spoke. Mr. M. H. Bell, the commander of the Star Spangled Banner, gave the boys a talking to from the spirit of "61" and Hon. D. W. Badger, who has a son an officer in the new army, spoke in an interesting manner of how the country looked upon these men of the new army and what was expected of them.

Every speaker made it plain that the people of the country were behind them and the people of this district especially interested in their own boys.

There were a large number of the relatives and friends of the drafted men present and following the formal speaking there was a general reception.

The meeting closed with singing of the Star Spangled Banner and a few rousing cheers.

Later the men of the draft and the alternates were taken to the Colonial Theatre for the performance. They returned to the home for the night, that is, the men from out of the city those from this city were allowed to remain at their homes.

Mr. Thomas Schooley who is in command of the quota, said last night that in behalf of the men of the quota he wished to express their thanks for the reception and for the many courtesies shown by the Chamber of Commerce, the citizens of this city and especially by the Army and Navy Home. They would go away said he, feeling that they had been highly honored and he wanted the people to know that the men were grateful and would always cherish it.

The District board refused to reverse the decision of the local board in the cases of John J. Reagan and Morris Selden, and they refused to reopen the cases of Royal P. Oils, Harry T. Wendell and Orman R. Paul, who were granted discharges by the local board on the ground of their being married. The Wendell case has been already disposed of by the local board discharging him as a municipal officer.

The district board has been working apparently on the old law, which was considerably changed by the mobilization rules and regulations and in all but two cases in which they have overruled the local board, they have reversed their own decisions, and in no case have upset any decision of the local board in which they certified the men into the army.

The local board is one of the most competent in the state and as good as any in the country and there is no board who have given more of their time and thoughts to the work. Unlike the state board who have left everything apparently to an "efficient office manager" the local board have given everything their personal attention. So far not a man certified and sent to Ayer has been turned down by the army officers.

NOTES ON THE DRAFT FAREWELL

Nearly 3000 men, women and children were at the depot to bid the boys farewell.

Two women were slightly injured when attempting to cross through a baggage car. They were attempting to gain a better view of the departure. They were hoisted up into the car and as they were getting out on the other side they both fell to the station platform.

A clear October sky and the sharp morning temperature assisted in the proceedings, the men stepping briskly in the invigorating air.

But few sad faces were seen among the spectators and not one among the draftees. All seemed to realize what the movement meant.

Mothers last warnings to be good boys and the customary parting of any mother was much in evidence at the station. Then the sweetest part was a shy little kiss, a fond farewell and the waving of a handkerchief as the big train rolled out of the sheds.

Many that witnessed the start of the parade at the court house took short cuts to the depot where they also participated in the farewell.

Many relatives of the draftees accompanied the boys along the route of the parade. Perhaps mothers did speak a little louder than usual today when they were nearing a large gathering, and they would say, "Yes, that's my boy." Why shouldn't she be proud of him. He has gone off to fight for Portsmouth, each and every one of us.

The police platoon made an excellent showing at the head of the parade. The police were directed by Deputy Chief of Police George Ducker. Delegations were present from Newmarket, Newton, North Hampton, Rye and Plainfield. They joined in the farewell. Boys were among the draftees from each of the named towns.

Men and boys in large numbers gave the last rousing cheer to the departing men. They lined the rails for a long distance out of the station on top of freight cars.

The police experienced little trouble at the station. It was necessary to demand the women to leave the train several times. It was feared that the train might start before they could get off and serious accidents might happen.

As the train pulled out for Ayer, a cheer with such volume that the station seemed to rock was sent up.

The farewell today was a remarkable demonstration long to be remembered. The "movie man" was not there.

were constantly bombarding the town and harbor.

Newington, Oct. 3.—We have been called again to part with one of our well known and respected citizens. The death of John Towle, the oldest man in town occurred last week at the Portsmouth hospital where he had been for several weeks for treatment. Mr. Towle and sister, Miss Annie, had lived together for years on Day road. He was a man well known and his joyful manner won him many friends. His pleasant stories and quaint sayings gave pleasure to both old and young. The sympathy of the community is extended to his sister who is now left alone. The funeral was held on Sunday afternoon at the church. Interment was made in the family lot, Newington cemetery.

Mrs. Jerry Towle of Newfields was called here to attend the funeral of his brother, Mr. John Towle.

Miss Dorothy Emerson of Portsmouth, food demonstrator, talked to our ladies in the town hall on Tuesday afternoon. Her subject was, "Fats, and how to share them with our soldiers." Fats are needed by them for making explosives, lubricants, ointments for wounds and also it is much needed in foods. The supply is not equal to the demand and these talks are to help one to see the way in which they can save fats so that there can be a surplus which can be used for the soldiers at the front. Miss Emerson also demonstrated how to make hash and salads and will come once in four weeks for six months to speak upon different subjects. We hope that the people will show interest and make these meetings a success by attending each one.

Mr. and Mrs. Albion Garland celebrated the 20th anniversary of their marriage on Sunday in a quiet manner. The relatives from Portsmouth were present and all enjoyed a pleasant time together with wishes for observing many such anniversaries in the future.

Miss Edna Young who has been spending the summer with Mrs. Garland, returned home on Sunday.

"BUY NOW" SECOND LIBERTY BOND SLOGAN

(By Associated Press)
Boston, Mass., Oct. 2.—"Buy now" is the slogan adopted by the New England Liberty Bond committee who met here today to perfect their plans for the drive for the $500,000,000 New England quota of the five billion dollar loan. The slogan was tonight sent out to the hundred of workers through the New England states. An unofficial estimate this evening was that at least five millions had been sold in this city in the first two days. One of the subscriptions was from the Drapers of Hopedale, for a million dollars and another from Hornblower and Weeks for half a million, which they duplicated in their New York office. During the rush hour at the Federal Reserve bank several truck loads of the first issue of the Liberty bond arrived under escort of the secret service men.

New York, Oct. 2.—The machinery for the great Liberty bond drive has been perfected for New York city and there is every hope that this district will subscribe one-half of the total loan. The unofficial estimate for the first two days is between fifty and sixty millions.

MIGHTY BATTLE RAGING ON THE WESTERN FRONT

(By Associated Press)
That the great offensive movement of the war is in the making in Flanders and Belgium by the British forces is indicated by the repeated attacks that the Crown Princes are throwing at the English-French line with that uncertainty which plainly indicates that they are nervous and expect one of those lightning thrusts into their lines by Field Marshal Haig. These attacks are being made against the salient held by the British that so threatens the Ostend and Lille railroads, the ultimate taking of which would so interfere with the flow of supplies to the German armies in the south and the seacoast fortification and submarine bases of the Germans.

Along the Ypres-Menin road the Germans have made brilliant efforts to regain some of the ground taken and consolidated or to break up the impending offensive movement of the English. In repeated waves they have thrown forward their troops, only to have them cut down like wheat before a mowing machine, by the machine gun and rifle fire, as well as the terrific artillery fire that is always raging. A considerable number have been taken prisoners and to a man they are outspoken in expressing their belief that they are at last safe from that inferno of shells that the British are hurling into the German lines. They say their losses have been horrible and their appearance indicates a break in the morale of the troops.

The German big guns have not been silent but they are not to be compared with the vast array of artillery that Field Marshal Haig has installed for this mighty drive and their fire sounds in insignificant comparison with the mighty roar of the British guns as they search out the German trenches.

EARLY WINTER FORSEEN

Minneapolis is in for a cold winter, with an extra early start, if the birds are to be believed, according to the Oldest Inhabitant, who has made a study of the habits of the feathered guests and other outdoor animals for many moons.

"The crow blackbirds generally go south about the middle of October before a mild or open winter, said the O. I. "but this year they already have started and the main flight has left Minneapolis far in the rear. This, I believe, is positive indication that cold weather is almost upon us.

"Then there are the robins—they have been congregating in large flocks for about three weeks, and the advance guard has departed for the south. This means that the cold is within their sight and that they are running no chances of being overtaken by the chill winds that drift down from the Medicine hat country. Of course, a few belated little fellows are left but they will be on the wing soon.

The orioles, among the most intelligent of the birds that frequent this section in the summer, took flight for the Sunny South more than two weeks ago. When I saw them go I began laying in an extra supply of coal and wood.

"Many people do not pay enough attention to the bird and animal life around them to realize these creatures know long before we do what to expect in the way of weather. For instance if you notice the next cat you meet you will find that her fur already is growing long and thick, as is the hair of the dogs. This means they are preparing for a cold winter.

"And then in the vegetable world, the wild cucumbers are giving us the warning that summer is just and that the cold will come earlier than usual. The wild cucumbers seldom ripen until the first of October or even later in ordinary years, but this year they have ripened early, which means to my way of thinking, they realize that winter is close at hand and wish to shed their seed before the frost hardens the ground.

"Muskat houses are four feet above water," said O. I. "That is the highest I ever saw and is a sure sign of a bitter winter. In addition, corn husks are thick, another sure sign.

"Winter will start earlier this year and there will be more snow than a year ago. Along in November it will turn cold and stay cold."—From the Minneapolis Journal.

DOUBLE SUICIDE AT ST. JOHN, N. B.

(By Associated Press)
St. John, N. B., Oct. 2.—Herbert Mickintosh, thought to live in Manchester, N. H., and a woman registering as "A. Pinley," died in a double suicide pact, in a local hotel here today.

The couple had attempted to return to a New England town a few days ago and were refused admittance to the United States by the authorities at the Canadian border. They went to a hotel in St. John and had not left their rooms.

Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first, yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from drug store or toilet counter and just try it.

GERMAN CITIES GET A TASTE OF BOMBS

Paris, Oct. 2.—The German cities of Frankfurt-on-the-Main, Stuttgart, Coblenz and Treves were bombarded last night by French aviators in retaliation for German aerial attacks on French cities.

The following official announcement was given out:

"The Germans last night made a new attack on the town of Dunkirk. The bombardment was violent, causing serious material damage. It is reported there were numerous victims among the civilian population.

"In reprisal for the bombardments carried out by the Germans against Bar-le-Duc and Dunkirk our aviators last night threw down bombs on the towns of Frankfurt-on-the-Main, Coblenz, Treves and Stuttgart.

"Our bombardment airplanes made numerous expeditions, in the course of which 2120 kilograms (4671 pounds) of explosives were thrown on military buildings in Roulers and 6000 kilograms (13,200 pounds) on the railway stations at Metzsur-Wolpny and Thionville, the airfield at Chamblay, encampments at Spincourt and Tilly and munition depots at the Longeau farm where a violent explosion was observed.

"Two German airplanes were brought down yesterday by our pilots, and four others were compelled to land in a disabled condition.

Treves, Coblenz and Frankfurt all lie in the same general direction from France, and are, approximately, 65, 120 and 160 miles distant from where the French fighting line is now located. Treves is in Rhenish Prussia; Coblenz is 67 miles farther inland, in Prussia, and Frankfurt lies still beyond in Prussia. All three are very old cities, rich in architectural and historical interest. Stuttgart is in Wurtemberg, farther to the south, and is about 132 miles from the French front.

Probably one group of French aviators made the trip to Treves, Coblenz and Frankfurt. They must have flown at least 320 miles in such an expedition.

APPOINT UMPIRES FOR SERIES

The umpires appointed for the World Series of 1917 are William J. Klem and Charles Rigler, National League and Frank O'Loughlin and William G. Evans, American League. All of these have had considerable experience as arbiters of play in the World's Championship contests. This quartet worked together in 1912 when the Boston Red Sox defeated the Giants in the memorable eight game series and again in 1915, when the Boston Americans won four out of five games from the Philadelphia Nationals. Now for the third time they have been chosen to act together, calling balls and strikes; making decisions on the bases, and watching the foul lines, each in his turn as the series progresses.

Klem's first experience in the big baseball feature was in 1908 and since that time only two world's rings have been won, without his having been connected with the games in his official capacity. The exceptions were the battles of 1910 and last year. So that the coming series will be the eighth in which he will have taken an active part.

O'Loughlin ante-date Klem in World Series history as he was one of the umpires in the Chicago series of 1906 when the White Sox beat the Cubs four out of six games. He officiated again in the 1909 series between Pittsburgh and Detroit when the Pittsburgh Nationals shut out the Tigers in the seventh game and won the championship. Then in 1912 and 1915 he was active and the coming contest will mark his fifth appearance in the World Series.

Rigler also will officiate for the fifth time in a world's championship struggle, when he steps out on the diamond at Chicago. In 1910 together with Connolly, O'Day and Sheridan, he umpired the series between the Athletics and Chicago Nationals. In 1913 he was appointed for the New York-Philadelphia Series, while in 1912 and again in 1916, he and the other three umpires who are officiating this year worked together.

Evans had his initial experience as a World Series umpire in 1909, when he worked with Johnstone, Klem and Evans, in the Pittsburgh-Detroit series. Then again in 1914 and 1915 he was partner of this year made up of the umpiring staff, which has been reappointed for a third term. The assignments of umpires for World Series since 1908 follows:

1908—Klem, Connolly, Sheridan, O'Day.

1909—Johnstone, O'Loughlin, Evans, Klem.

1910—Connolly, O'Day, Rigler, Sheridan.

1911—Klem, Dineen, Connolly, Brennan.

1912—Klem, Evans, Rigler, O'Loughlin.

1913—Klem, Egan, Rigler, Connolly.

1914—Klem, Dineen, Byron, Hildebrand.

1915—Klem, O'Loughlin, Evans, Rigler.

1916—Connolly, O'Day, Quigley, Dineen.

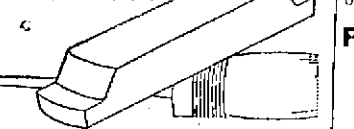

1917—Klem, Rigler, O'Loughlin, Evans.

FROM "PIGS" TO PAINT

THE pigment or "body" of long-wearing house paint was once pigs—chunky bars of metal lead like that shown above. A chemical process, known as "corroding," changes them into white-lead.

Upon the purity of the pig lead depends to a great extent the purity of the white-lead. Its purity in turn determines the life of paint.

So don't buy "a pig in a poke" when in the market for paint. Specify a white-lead of known purity, such as which is made from the purest pig lead obtainable. Thinned with pure linseed oil, Dutch Boy White-Lead makes paint that costs no more in the beginning and much less in the end. What's more, the paint stays good to look at. There is no unsightly and costly cracking or scaling. It is waterproof, in fact, all-weatherproof. Any color suitable for inside or outside work can be secured.

For further information about Dutch Boy White-Lead, consult your painter or paint dealer or write for booklet.

MUSICAL LETTER From Dr. Goodall

It is a well-known fact that Dr. Goodall has been prominent in musical societies, choirs, cantatas and public concerts and lectures for the past 40 years. He has retained his health and vigor and his robust baritone and tenor voice is now well developed and full of resonance, so that he offers his services to the public as a leader, director or precursor, to organize and drill choirs and choruses (large or small) for musical societies or public concerts. Dr. Goodall can also be engaged to supply in quartet choirs either at tenor, baritone or first base, also as soloist for concert work. He solicits especially engagements for campaign songs, patriotic, comic, war songs, best of classic songs, college songs, national songs of all nations, slave and Jubilee songs, temperance and Grange songs, Grand Army songs, concert songs, descriptive songs. Our repertoire consists of 700 dear old songs, secular and sacred, home songs, heart songs, children's songs, story songs and historical songs.

Dr. Goodall has had nearly 60 years of service in church music, both choirs and choruses, and can show church music committees and ministers how to get the best music at a moderate cost, which will fill up the empty seats quickly. There is nothing in this world, in my judgment, which will attract and bring happiness to so many people, young or old, as good music.

Dr. Goodall can also be engaged by ministers or church committees to supply pulpit or sing special Gospel Hymns or solos.

As soon as he sells out his office and dental business he will devote all his time to music teaching, vocal music and voice placing for both ladies and gentlemen, also diaphragmatic or deep breathing, which is essential for singers, and is also hygienic and a promoter of health. Call on him now and make appointments for private lessons day or evening.

Dr. Goodall is well prepared by 45 years of diligent Bible study and many years of Y. M. C. A. work to preach the Gospel as well as to sing the Gospel on the Lord's Day. He has made arrangements with the Ministers' Association through Mr. Percy Caswell, secretary of this association, to supply churches in the county or city whenever opportunity offers. So many ministers have enlisted and gone to the way that over 50 per cent of new students are lacking and there is an urgent need for help now, so Dr. Goodall will be now recognized as the "Singing Evangelist," singing my several hundred Gospel Hymns and classics and old hymns from the best authors, whenever occasion offers.

NOTICE CAREFULLY.—Until Dr. Goodall sells out his office and dental business he will attend to all his patrons in dentistry as usual, but it would be well for those patrons to make engagements with him directly or they will lose this opportunity now offered.

MAN HIGHER UP IN GUN PLOT NAMED

(By Associated Press)
Philadelphia, Oct. 2.—State Senator B. H. Vare, was today named as the man higher up who furnished the money to bring over the New York gunmen to shoot up the fifth ward in the republican primaries. Congressman William S. Vare was named as the man who agreed to see that money was furnished. The Vare brothers who have made millions in city contracts were named by Samuel Malone at a hearing of Mayor S. B. Smith who is under arrest. The Vare brothers are with Smith against Senator Penrose and McNichol. The Vare brothers in a statement say that everything that Malone uttered was an absolute lie.

CAMP AT AYER OVERCROWDED

Camp Devens, Ayer, Oct. 2.—The matter of whether the final 15 per cent of New England's draft quota shall be drawn and sent to this cantonment is still in abeyance, although a subject of keen interest to Camp Devens officials. It is freely prophesied that while the drawing may take place according to schedule, or a little later the men will necessarily be sent to some other cantonment or assigned directly to some of the National Guard units of other divisions. The condition that makes it practically impossible to have them here arises through the northern New York contingent having been assigned to this division after the plans were made to have the division composed entirely of New England recruits. Under the new arrangement of quarters made necessary by the increase of regimental units from 2000 to 3000 men.

Camp Devens can accommodate 36,700 men and officers without undue crowding, and this is the number which the draft brings from the New England states. New York's quota amounts to about 7000 men, which is also the number that will compose the last 15 per cent referred to and which, unless the plans are changed, will be drawn and ordered to report for duty Oct. 17. The disposal of this last drawing of conscripts is now being considered by the War Department, which is expected to decide the problem of where to put them within a day or two.

Examining Boards Criticized
Draft examining boards are coming in for a generous amount of criticism by Camp Devens medical examiners as well as by officials generally. Many of the draft boards, particularly those of Connecticut, are charged with gross carelessness in the sending of men here who are manifestly unfit for service. One man, for instance, was sent here from New Haven and was found upon examination to lack all of the fingers of his right hand. Another recruit from the same locality was found to have a glass eye, with the other eye of inferior quality. These are extreme cases, but there are scores, the examiners say, who are so plainly unfit for military service that the practiced eye of a physician is not necessary to determine their disability.

The carelessness in the sending of men here who are manifestly unfit for service, it is pointed out, but the examination and weeding out process here consumes much valuable time. The rejection of the men generally have been far less in number than in the case of enlisted men for the Regular Army. One reason is because many of them, from the country districts, are particularly fit and strong, and another is that the standard of physical perfection is not so high as is required of Regular Army recruits.

Why Rookies Lack Uniforms
The reason why all the rookies now in camp are not yet uniformed is given by headquarters officers as due to a lack of organization of many of the camp units which makes it difficult to get the clothing out of the regimental stores and into the possession of the men.

"There can be no other cause for so many of the men still being in civilian attire," said Captain Arthur T. Brown, assistant chief of staff, "for clothing sufficient for all the men here and to come is within the camp lines. It should be but a matter of a few days longer before all are completely outfitted."

THE WAY OF WEALTH YWIDOWS

Why should so many extremely wealthy widows of America die sudden and suspicious deaths?

Why should a tremendous fortune left to some young woman that some wealthy old man has married in his dotage be like a milestone hung around her neck dragging her down to her death?

Yet that seems to be the way in which many of the enormous fortunes accumulated in this country by some colossal of trade work. This week the news columns of the papers of the country contain much and will contain much more about two fabulously wealthy widows who were not permitted to live long after they received their great inheritance through their marriages. One, the widow of a Chicago multimillionaire, after a few years of hectic hurrying on the trail of pleasure and happiness in this country and in Europe, was shot down in a mysterious manner in a North Carolina country town. Her confidential man is now on trial charged with her murder.

The other one, after re-marrying died a few months ago under circumstances which caused her blood relatives to have her body secretly examined in the dead of night and the organs examined for possible poison.

She married the enormously wealthy Plagier after he was eighty years of age and after he had secured the passage of a divorce law by the Florida legislature permitting a man whose wife was in an insane asylum to remarry.

Plagier died soon after he remarried and his young bride remarried soon after he died.

She had the disposal of a seventy million dollar estate. Now her will, made a scant month before she died is in dispute. Great wealth should have brought long life to these widows. Instead it brought early deaths, violent in one, and possibly in both cases.—From the Lawrence Telegram.

AFTER GERMAN SUBMARINE BASE

Washington, Oct. 2.—The allies, with America's aid are likely next year to take the offensive on the same. This deduction is drawn in expert quarters here today as the result of recent allied military operations. With England striking at the rail arteries leading to Germany's Ostend and Zeebrugge bases, such an offensive, it is felt, could be used in telling fashion later.

Much will depend, however, on the success England meets in her road operations. While she has warded off counter-attacks so far, it is a question in many military minds whether she will be able to accomplish before winter the cutting of the rail arteries. Even if she does cut these lines, Germany still can feed the nests from which her submarines emanate.

But if England can deliver a hard blow at the communication lines she has done much toward crippling the effectiveness of Germany's U-boat game. Then with the backing of powerful ships who may move in on a strangling process and stamp out the home of the ocean pests, though she must still maintain a mighty land force to back the sea operations.

Advocates of a stronger naval force are still active in their urgings and they feel that the way things shape up on the northern end of the western front now is argument for their proposals.

LATIN AMERICA WITH ALLIES INSIDE YEAR, SAYS BARRETT

Chicago, Oct. 1.—"Every one of the 20 republics of Central and South America are ready now and will be lined up with the United States and the allies within a year. If the war goes on that length of time," said John Barrett, director of the Pan-American Union, as he passed through Chicago today.

"Six, namely, Brazil, Bolivia, Panama, Uruguay, Cuba and Costa Rica, have already essentially broken off relations with Germany. Guatemala, Honduras, Nicaragua, Hayti and the Dominican Republic have assumed practically the same attitude. Argentina is on the verge of severing relations and if she so acts, she will probably carry with her Chile, Peru and Paraguay. Venezuela, Ecuador, Colombia, Salvador and Mexico lean strongly toward the United States and the allies."

"If the 20 countries of Latin America enter the war in a practical way they can raise an army of 2,000,000 of splendid fighting value in solving the food supply problem."

ASKS EARLY DECISION IN THE DRAFT LAW.

Washington, Oct. 2.—The Supreme Court was asked today to pass on the constitutionality of the selective draft law at the earliest date possible in a motion presented by Solicitor General Davis. Appeals by persons convicted of violating the act have been made and the Solicitor General asked that they be advanced and heard together. Among the cases are those of Emma Goldman and Alexander Berkman, convicted on charges of urging men of conscription age not to register. The motion was taken under advisement.

BRITISH CAPTURE NEARLY 4000 TURKS AT RAMADIE.

London, Oct. 2.—Nearly 4000 prisoners were taken by the British army in Mesopotamia which captured Ramadie, it is announced officially. The town was taken after three days of hard fighting, in which Ahmed Bey, the Ottoman commander, and his staff were made captives.

(By Associated Press)

OVERCAME HIS OBJECTIONS

(By Associated Press)
Ayer, Mass., Oct. 2.—John T. Anbow, of Deerfield, Mass., one of the conscientious objectors to war, had a change of heart today and decided to become a soldier. He came to the camp two weeks ago and while he put on the military uniform he refused to drill, and he was assigned to kitchen work. Today he called upon his captain and told him that he had changed his mind and he was ready for work. Leo H. Miner of South Lancaster, is another objector who has changed his mind. There are five more in the camp John Corey of Bristol, Arthur Johnson, Ernest Allen, of Providence, Thomas B. and James J. Cullane are also in the same class and all have been assigned to the depot brigade.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

IT'S GRANDMOTHER'S RECIPE TO BRING BACK COLOR AND LUSTRE TO HAIR

You can turn gray faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous and almost over night if you'll get a 60-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, says a well known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

This preparation is a toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

FRENCH AIR FORCES BOMB GERMAN TOWN

(By Associated Press)

Paris, Oct. 2.—French aviators bombarded the German towns of Frankfurt on the Main; Stuttgart and Goblentz. Many vital seelions were affected by the attack.

Over seventeen thousand pounds of explosives were dropped during the bombardment.

In the course of the bombardment in the vicinity of Luogean Farm, a munition depot was hit and a terrible explosion occurred.

Two German airplanes were brought down by the French anti-aircraft guns and four others were forced to land, being disabled.

The Warren Brothers have about one half of the Islington street job of concreting done and they will finish the concrete this week.

SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

The American Library Association under the War Department has addressed a letter to all libraries of the country, setting forth the need of libraries and reading matter in the cantonments and larger encampments where sailors and soldiers will assemble.

It is desired to raise the sum of $1,000,000 in cash for this purpose. The quota allotted to Portsmouth is $600. Money and subscriptions will be received at the Public Library.

May the proverbial patriotic and liberal spirit of our community respond to this most worthy call. Sums from $1.00 up gratefully received. The campaign for this purpose will last a week, and a quick response will materially assist the committee.

HANNAH G. FERNALD, Librarian.

Rustie Allen, colored, of 132 Denett street was struck by an automobile near the Franklin schoolhouse this forenoon. The machine, owned and driven by W. A. The mudguard struck him and knocked him one side. The owner of the car picked him up and hurried him to the Portsmouth hospital where it was found that no bones were broken. His injuries consisted of a cut on the hip and a bruised knee. He was discharged in a short time from the hospital and sent home.

UNKNOWN MAN FOUND DEAD IN LODGING HOUSE

Hired Room at House of Mrs. Martin and Gave No Name.

An unknown man about sixty years of age was found dead in the lodging house of Mrs. Martin at the corner of Deane and Vaughan streets early this morning. Mrs. Martin heard noises coming from above and investigated. Looking into his room she saw nothing wrong and the man appeared to be sleeping. Later, a man in the house went to the stranger's room and found him dead. The man is a complete stranger to Mrs. Martin and the police. He came there on Tuesday and engaged the room, giving no name. He complained of being somewhat ill and had some medicine with him. The medical referee, Dr. George Pender, viewed the body and ordered it turned over to Undertaker J. Verne Wood. Dr. Pender will make another examination today before the death certificate is signed. It is thought that his death was due to some form of heart trouble. There was nothing whatever on the man's clothing that would lead to his identity. He is well built, was dressed neatly, weighs about 170 pounds and is 5 feet, 10 inches tall.

ANNIVERSARY

Gifts and Congratulations Bestowed on Mrs. Ellen A. Lewis on Her Birthday.

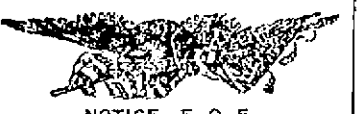

Mrs. Ellen A. Lewis, widow of the late Thomas Lewis and one of the most respected aged residents of this city celebrated the 92d anniversary of her birth today at the home of her son, Fred, No. 481 State street. Mrs. Lewis is a native of Portsmouth and is in most excellent health considering she is nearing the century mark. She passes a great part of her time sewing, reading and writing and accomplishes each without the aid of eye glasses. Today the venerable lady met many friends and acquaintances on this occasion who found her bright and cheery, appearing to them like a woman many years her junior. Gifts of flowers and appropriate tokens were bestowed upon her with hearty congratulations from the numerous guests. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Fred Lewis and the day was made one of enjoyment for the aged lady as well as the guests, many of whom were life long acquaintances.

LOOKING FOR TROUBLE

Marine Starts Rough House on Vaughan Street.

Joseph C. Ray, a member of the marine guard at the navy yard got by the police court here today but will face a court martial board at the navy yard.

Ray, with several other soldiers was blocking the sidewalk near the Olympia Theatre on Tuesday night and the crowd was requested to move by Officer Kelley. Ray did not obey the order and started an argument about the rights of a man with the U. S. uniform, etc. The officer again told him to move and left him. Ray then followed the officer to the corner and demanded satisfaction and a reason for being spoken to by the police. Kelley placed him under arrest and Ray balked. Officer Murphy came along and took hold of Ray. He became furious and cried out for his comrades to release him. A large crowd gathered and chased on to the police station. It looked like a small riot. The commanding officer of the marine guard came over today and requested the police to hand Ray over to him which was done. He was taken to the navy yard for action by the government authorities.

WAR BOARD

Claims He Is Subject of Russia and Is Being Forced Into Military Service.

Morris Salden, one of the young men sent in the third contingent of the selective draft, to Ayer today, caused quite a surprise to the war board at the roll call of the draftees this morning in the form of a protest which he read to the board before the departure of the quota for the train. The protest was addressed to only two members of the board and read as follows:

"Having been called by you for military service in the United States, as a subject of Russia and in accordance with my position constantly taken, I protest against this call and protest against being forced into military service of the United States."

(Signed) "Morris Salden." Up to date Salden has filed four claims and three appeals. The local board declined to recognize the protest and he went away with the rest.
